Council Votes to Annex Parkside; Police Chief Reviews Blotter Rules

by Al Geiger

By a vote of 3 to 2, City Council passed an ordinance to annex the Parkside subdivision. Parkside consists of 31 free-standing homes located off Good Luck Road in a "notch" in the southern edge of Greenbelt. The Park, but not the subdivision, is within the corporate limits of Greenbelt, and Parkside homeowners had petitioned to be annexed by the city.

A lengthy discussion preceded the vote, centered mostly on the distance of Parkside from the core of the city and the centers of city services as well as the possible dilution of these services — versus the added city tax revenues that the development would generate.

The Nays

In voting against annexation, Councilmember Alan Turnbull cited the close-knit character of Greenbelt, which would now have a neighborhood separated by a significant distance from the core. Councilmember Rodney Roberts said there was a lack of sufficient information on true costs to the city to make a proper judgment on annexation. Roberts, in voting against, said "I'm not happy that this has been made a personality issue. I approached this on a strictly fiscal and resource basis."

The Yeas

After voting for annexation, Councilmember Ed Putens welcomed the Parkside residents to Greenbelt saying, "It may be land we are annexing but there are people with that land. I understand everybody's side and I also understand the non-financial values."

Councilmember Thomas White emphasized the need for

"Welcome to our city, welcome to our taxes..."
-Mayor Judith Davis

more single family free-standing homes in Greenbelt. He said, "Now there are potentially 31 additional places that a Greenbelter whose life situation has changed can move to without leaving the city."

Mayor Judith Davis said she weighed the financial aspects, land-use issues and infrastructure impacts, balancing them with the non-financial values — the people — before she voted for annexation. Addressing the Parkside residents in attendance she said, "Welcome to our city, welcome to our taxes, welcome to your responsibility to vote and to offer your services to our boards, committees, and service organizations."

The resolution to annex takes effect 45 days after passage by the city council unless, within 45 days, there is a petition for a referendum.

Weekly Report

Police Chief Jim Craze talked to council about newly formulated guidelines for completing the weekly activity report of the Police Department. As background, he said the weekly report was started before his time in the department as a way to let crime-watch groups know what was going on in their neighborhoods. It was soon recognized to be a valuable tool to get police information to City Council and the media.

The guidelines state that all crimes, especially if an arrest is made, and incidents (both criminal and non-criminal) of a nature that might attract media attention, are normally included in the report. Exceptions are: when the information may jeopardize an investigation or endanger a victim, witness or defendant, or cause embarrassment to a victim; suicides or attempted suicides; domestic assaults where no arrest is made on the scene; allegations of child abuse unless an arrest is made and the identity of the victim cannot be ascertained from the report; non-criminal incidents, such as emergency psychiatric evaluations, runaway juveniles and traffic accidents, unless a fatality occurs; traffic offenses, including DWI arrests.

Opponents Seek Broader Vote on Annexing Parkside

by James Giese

Greenbelt residents are circulating a petition calling for a referendum vote on the Greenbelt City Council's split decision to annex the Parkside subdivision of 31 homes off Good Luck Road and bounded on three sides by Greenbelt Park. An organizational coordination meeting for the petition drive was called for Sunday, October 4, by annexation opponent Doug Love, through an advertisement in this paper. According to a press release from Vail Mueller, 17 people attended that meeting. Fifteen had attended an earlier meeting two days prior.

The petitioners cited two reasons for having a referendum: the city council acted too hastily in reaching its decision two and a half weeks after a public hearing was held and the issues were "too complex and poorly understood" for a decision to be reached at this time. The release quotes Love as saying that the petition circulators will have their work cut out for them as they seek to obtain the signatures of 2,200 registered voters by November 12. The press release claims that 265 signatures were obtained in the first few days.

Requirements

According to Greenbelt City Clerk David Moran, more than 1,976 signatures of registered voters residing within the city will be needed in order for the petition drive to be successful. The exact number is uncertain because new registrations were being actively sought before this November's election and the close of the registration books for the election did not take place until October 4. Moran expects to get the final count of registrants within a week. As of September 30, there were 9,876 registered voters in Greenbelt.

According to the annexation laws, the city council's decision to annex becomes effective not less than 45 days after the council's action unless it is petitioned to referendum. There are three groups who can make a petition—the residents of the area to be annexed, the residents of the city doing the annexation and the county council. To be successful, a petition must be signed by at least 20 percent of the registered voters within an area, or by two-thirds of the members of the county council. While petitions could be received and votes held in both the city and the area to be annexed, it is only within the city that petition drive efforts are known to be taking place.

If Petition Succeeds ...

If a petition is successfully filed, the city's chief executive or administrative officer would then be required to suspend the annexation resolution from taking effect until a referendum was held. It is expected that in Greenbelt's

City Museum Wins State Grant For Coming Decorative Arts Show

by Sandra Lange,

FOGM Board President

The Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM) is proud to announce the receipt of a $7,000 grant from the state of Maryland, Dept. of Housing and Community Development, Division of Historical and Cultural Programs. The funds will be used for FOGM's next exhibition on the decorative arts, entitled "Fashionable, Functional, and Frugal: Modernist Design in Everyday Objects, 1930 - 1945." FOGM has also been awarded a $1,200 mini-grant for the exhibition by the Maryland Humanities Council (MHC), which is funded through a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The grant will pay for printing costs associated with the exhibit.

FOGM has hired an exhibit designer who is re-designing the museum's exhibition room at the Community Center. New modular cases are being constructed especially for this exhibit. The room will be painted in bright art deco colors. FOGM curator Katie Scott-Childress is the project director for the exhibition, which will feature Fiesta ware, Manhattan glassware, and other objects from the Greenbelt Museum's permanent collection and several items on loan. The grand opening for the exhibition will be Friday, November 20. A lecture entitled "The Decorative Arts in the Machine Age" will be held Thursday, November 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building. Smithsonian fellow Shelley Nickles, a nationally acclaimed expert in the field of the decorative arts, will be the guest speaker.

FOGM is grateful to all of the individuals and groups that contributed to its $2,500 challenge grant match issued by the city of Greenbelt. There were 75 groups and individuals that contributed, including 11 pioneer families. One contributor was Bill Lassell, whose family was the first to occupy the home that is now the museum.

Coupled with the flea market proceeds, donations at the museum, and other miscellaneous funds, FOGM raised over $3,000. Special thanks to the following community organizations for their support of FOGM: Greenbelt Homes, Inc., Boxwood Civic Association, Springhill Lake Insignia Financial Group, Greenbelt Federal Credit Union, Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center, Greenbrook Village Homeowners Association, and Greenbelt Golden Age Club.

Interns this Semester

Katie Scott-Childress is working with several interns this semester on both the decorative arts exhibit and other museum projects. Jill Parsons is an intern from the Parsons School of Design Masters program in American Decorative Arts. Rachel Korr is an intern from the University of Maryland's American studies department and is doing an independent study this semester on the museum. Bob Garber is a Greenbelt resident who works

Public Hearing to Be Held On Wetlands Mitigation

There will be a public informational hearing on plans to impact nontidal wetlands, their buffers or waters of the state of Maryland caused by the reconstruction through widening of existing roads within the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center in the vicinity of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) office building on Sunnyside Road. These improvements, which include the widening of Edmonston Road from two to four lanes from Cherrywood Lane to Sunnyside Road and some widening work along Sunnyside Road will result in permanent impacts of 44,287 square feet to nontidal wetlands, 83,639 square feet to the nontidal wetland buffers and 90 linear feet to the waters of Beaverdam Creek as well as another 3,700 square feet to the nontidal wetland buffers and 90 linear feet to the waters of Beaverdam Creek as well as another 3,700 square feet to nontidal wetland buffer along the creek. The hearing will be held on Wednesday, October 14, at 7 p.m., at the Beltsville Public Library, 4319 Sellman Road. It is being conducted by the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) Water Management Administration (WMA).

The MDE has approved phase I of a mitigation plan for the project. This would consist of the off-site creation of no less than 2.80 acres of forested nontidal wetland at the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center South Fields 18, 19, and 20. The land to be used to mitigate the impact caused by the road construction is located on the Paint Branch tributary to the Anacostia River. It is in back of the Paint Branch Golf Course, which is on the north side of University Boulevard, west of U.S. Route 1.

The application and related information are on file at the Nontidal Wetlands and Waterways Division (NWWD) of WMA at 2500 Broening Highway, Baltimore, MD 21224. Arrangements may be made for the inspection and copying of file materials. Information may also be obtained by contacting David Boeliner at 410-414-3400, extension 306.

The NWWD is affording interested parties the opportunity to provide written comments on the application or to be placed on the interested persons list for the application. These written comments or requests must be

Letters to the Editor

Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the voters of the 23rd Legislative District, who took the time to cast their ballots in the recent primary election, and especially to thank those who voted for me.

I particularly want to urge all registered voters to exercise their franchise in November, regardless of their choices in the election.

Joan Breslin Pitkin

Don't Sign

Please do not support the petition for referendum

Why ...

First, three of the five City Councilmembers, elected by citizens of Greenbelt voted "yes" to the annexation of Parkside. Secondly, a letter from Michael P. McLaughlin, city manager, dated June 18, states "there would be little or no impact on the city services as a result of this annexation. Given the small size of the development (31 homes), there is no justification for adding additional police officers or other city employees or facilities as a result of this annexation." The two services questioned most often are police and snow removal. The Greenbelt police have an established patrol route including Kenilworth Avenue to Good Luck Road where they turn around. However, Bill and I have seen Greenbelt police in Parkside. From Kenilworth Avenue to Parkside is a half mile. Is it not possible to include Parkside in with this patrol route already established?

The snow removal service is the other service which Parkside would impact, but this service is not needed every year. Cul-de-sac's are known to be last on the list for services, and Parkside has three. Greenbelt has the best snow removal service in the area, so being last on their list could put us days before the county.

As for fire and rescue services, trash removal, recycling, care of common grounds, care of the stormwater pond, water and sewage treatment services, Parkside will have no impact on Greenbelt. All of these services will remain the way they are now.

Bill and I will pay a higher tax due to the value of our home. A $15,000 surplus annually from our community has been estimated. We would hope that this would help pay for the trip from Greenbelt to Parkside. Bill and I have traveled to Greenbelt thousands of times for Labor Day Weekend to the movie theater, to do our banking, softball and soccer games, our dry cleaning, dentist/doctors' appointments, and visits to friends and never thought of wear and tear on vehicles.

Bill and I ask when they knock on your door, that you do not support the petition to referendum and let the decision for annexation stand as is.

Thank you.

Bill (Ozzie) and Eileen Osborne

Open Letter

To Greenbelt City Council:

Both my wife and I were dismayed to learn of the City Council's approval of the annexation of Parkside into the City of Greenbelt. Council members were elected to represent the interests of the citizens of Greenbelt, not the residents of Parkside. As a result of your vote, we will now receive diluted city services without any reduction in taxes. In particular, police patrol coverage will be reduced. While this is great for the residents of Parkside, it is distressing to us. The council ignored the opinions of a majority of Greenbelt citizens and placed the welfare of nonresidents ahead of residents.

While we empathize with Parkside purchasers over the claimed misrepresentation by the developer that the subdivision was within Greenbelt city limits, Parkside homeowners should seek redress through a civil lawsuit against the builder, not by asking the city and its residents to correct the matter. Furthermore, the boundary of Parkside is contiguous with the City of Riverdale Park, which could provide police and other city services much more efficiently than could Greenbelt.

Years ago, the city annexed the area now known as Greenbelt East. This was done not as a benefit to the residents east of the B-W Parkway, but as a benefit to the then already existing citizens of the city by controlling new development. More recently, the Council unsuccessfully opposed development of Parkside. This was done as representing the best interests of the current residents of the city. Now the Council proposes to reward this development with annexation.

The Parkside subdivision construction did not have to comply with Greenbelt building standards or inspections. Our family paid a premium over houses in other locales to purchase a home in Greenbelt that did meet these standards. The residents of Parkside did not, but may realize a windfall increase in the value of their homes as a result of annexation. A reasonable argument may also be made that the annexation of Parkside could eventually lower our property values.

We have never before noted an action by the City Council that so blatantly ignored the best interests of the citizens of Greenbelt as does the annexation of Parkside. We urge you to reconsider this issue at the next meeting of the City Council.

Patrick and Cornelia Kennedy

Hooray!

Hooray for the Highway Administration! I was elated to see that the exit onto Kenilworth Avenue from the Capital Beltway was re-routed from "yield" to a traffic light exit. Before the change, the drivers coming off of the Capital Beltway certainly did not know the meaning of "yield." I was witness to several accidents and near misses from drivers who did not yield to cars on Kenilworth Avenue.

Greenbelters were subjected to taking their lives in their hands every time they made a right hand turn onto Crescent Road.

The Old Curmudgeon

by I.J. Parker

I am afflicted with a neuropathy in my legs, which makes it difficult and painful to walk and especially to bend down or kneel. When I receive a magazine in the mail that contains a bunch of postal cards asking me to subscribe to the same magazine, and they fall to the floor when I open or carry the magazine to my chair, this makes me very grumpy. Usually I let them lie on the floor until the next time I clean up the apartment. The floor of my living room is littered with cards and the usual detritus of a bachelor pad. (OK, so I'm not neat.)

In order to be au courant on politics, art and architecture, general news, opinion and analysis of current events, I subscribe to various publications. All of them "blow" cards into the pages before they mail them out. So naturally, as an old curmudgeon, I eventually thought of a way to register my protest. After all, I already subscribe to the magazine, so why do they enclose cards asking me to subscribe? Why not confine their cards to those magazines sold on the newsstand and keep them out of the mailed periodicals? That sounds too logical, so I have to keep picking cards off my floor, getting angrier with each stooped grunt. (Stupid grunt?)

I collect these cards and when I have about 20, I put them in the mailbox. They're blank; I don't sign them. But they have a return address, the cards are stamped with the return postage guaranteed. (Incidentally, why are subscription departments of magazines from Washington, New York, Baltimore and Chicago lo-

This new re-routing changes that.

I am sure the Greenbelt police are relieved too. The new route will save many lives, injuries and insurance claims.

Well done! It was needed for a long time.

Joyce M. Yarwood

Added Worries

In regard to Mr. Dupree's "Sour Grapes" letter, I would like to express my opinion, and also the opinions of some other Greenbelt citizens.

Yes, we are worried about Westchester Park Landfill, Beltway Plaza hill, and Springhill Lake's transients, and I am sure, a few others, so why do we have to add "Parkside" to our problems?

Myself, and many other Greenbelt citizens, were against the Parkside annexation because of the distance and added city cost.

Yes, as Mr. Dupree tells us, "Face Facts." Yes, the development has been completed, and yes, these people have taken it upon themselves to saddle us with it, but that does not mean we have to like it.

I am sure the "tree huggers" are the responsible people that made Greenbelt nice in the past, therefore encouraging Mr. Dupree to make his home here, but now he has apparently had a turnaround, and is condemning the people of the past that made, and are trying to keep it nice.

And lastly, but not least, I resent the fact that I, and others who were "anti-Parkside," are referred to as "snobs."

Bob Hines
Another Greenbelt Resident

"I hate the autumn issues of environment magazine" cated in Boulder, Colorado, of all places?)

I reckon that when they get a stack of cards and must pay postage on each one of them, they'll get the idea. I am so fed up with the process that I now detach cards that are bound or stitched into the publication. Have you ever tried to tear one of those cards out of a magazine cleanly? Invariably, they have torn and mutilated edges, but I mail them anyway. The only inserts I don't ever tear out are the ones that have a sample of a cologne or perfume imprinted on the card. You need to tear a flap open to get the scents. I like a good-smelling magazine, but I can't stand the subscription cards.

I called a local postmaster to see if any of this was illegal. Thankfully, it is not a crime to mail unsigned cards. "Of course, you won't receive a reply if you don't sign them," the postmaster stated.

I started to proselytize my cause and asked a friend to do the same thing — mail the blank cards back. She said, "Izzy, you've got too much time on your hands."

OBITUARIES

Paul T. Strickler

Paul T. Strickler, 71, Boonsboro, Maryland, died Monday, Oct. 5, at home.

Born in Miami, Florida, April 6, 1927, he was the son of the late Paul T. Strickler, Sr., and Cecil M. Dickey Strickler.

The family settled in Maryland, being one of the first 25 families to move into Greenbelt. Paul Jr. graduated from Greenbelt High School in 1945 and immediately joined the Navy. Upon discharge, he entered Maryland University where he graduated in 1951, majoring in Geography. He entered a career with the federal government, working in various agencies, among which were Dept. of Defense, Dept. of Commerce, Census Bureau, and ACIC, retiring in December 1985 after 35 years of service.

He was very active in civic affairs, starting the Randolph Lions Club in Rockville in 1955 where he resided for a number of years. He was also active in the Boy Scouts, Randolph Hills Jr & Sr. baseball teams, and an active member of the Millian Methodist Church of Rockville.

He is survived by his wife of 51 years, Corinne M. Davis; two sons, Mark S. and Scott O.; a daughter, Dawn C. Smith; four grandchildren; and three sisters, Jackie Vandermenter, Winnie Daniels, and Joan Washburn.

He was a lifetime member of the Lions Club, a member of the American Legion, and the American Geographers.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, Oct. 17 at 1 p.m. at the Douglas A. Fiery Funeral Home, 1331 Eastern Blvd., Hagerstown. The family will receive friends from 12-1 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the American Heart Association, Lions Club International of 22-C, or the American Legion.

Fight the Flu: Shots Available

October 11-17 is National Adult Immunization Awareness Week. In the United States, at least 100 times as many adults as children die each year from vaccine-preventable diseases. Influenza or the flu is one of the leaders on the list of these potentially fatal illnesses.

Through November 21, registered nurses will administer flu vaccine to adults (18 years and older) in Safeway Food and Drug stores, Shoppers Food Warehouse stores, Care Drug Centers and many other locations. Flu shots cost $15 each. However, there is no charge for Medicare Part B recipients who present their Medicare card.

For information and flu shot clinic locations, consumers may call the 24-hour Fight the Flu hotline: (202) 895-5-BUG.

Guarneri Strings Hold Open Rehearsal

The Guarneri String Quartet will hold an open rehearsal on Tuesday, October 13 at 7 p.m. in the Ulrich Recital Hall of the Tawes Fine Arts Building. They will read through Mozart's String Quartet in G Major, K. 387 and the American Quartet in F Major by Dvorak. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend. For information call 301-405-1150 or e-mail to <concerts@deans.umd.edu>

Free Flu Shots Offered Oct. 27

As a free public service, Laurel Regional Hospital will offer flu shots on Tuesday, October 27, from 3 to 6 p.m. in the J. Russell Jones Room. The inoculations will be given to persons who risk serious illness from flu, including senior citizens and persons with chronic respiratory conditions.

Laurel Regional nurses will give the shots on a first-come, first-served basis. No appointments will be made. The serum supply is sufficient to vaccinate up to 300 people and the cost has been underwritten by the hospital as part of its commitment to provide illness prevention services to the community.

Baha'i Faith

"The wrong in the world continues to exist just because people talk only of their ideals, and do not strive to put them into practice. If actions took the place of words, the world's misery would very soon be changed into comfort. A man who does great good, and talks not of it, is on the way to perfection."

Ted Kliman Exhibits At Center Gallery

by Dennis Jelalian

The Greenbelt Community Center Art Gallery will present an exhibition of artist Ted Kliman's "The Lamentations Series" beginning October 14 and running through November 14. The exhibition includes paintings, drawings, and prints.

Kliman will give a lecture on his work on Saturday, October 17, at 4:15 p.m. in the Gallery. Following the lecture there will be a reception for the artist from 3 to 7 p.m.

"The Lamentations Series" is a stark collection of works in black and white dealing with the effects of light and shadow on the drapery of impossibly long prayer shawls. The shawls appear to be wrapped around palpable human forms, but there is no human in any of the works. The shawls float in limitless space.

The works are brilliantly designed, and executed with meticulous craftsmanship.

While interest in drapery may have been the starting point, these works go far beyond simple representation. Influences on Kliman's work include the work of Kathe Kollwitz, Judaism, and Jewish history, but Kliman's work transcends the specifics of its origin. Ultimately his works are an exploration of universal human spirituality.

The title "lamentations" is too narrow. There is lamentation, to be sure, but there are many other things. The figures in lamentation are the most predictable in the collection. Some of the works are mysterious. Some of the figures are asleep or waiting. Some dance. Some are in agony. One seems to ascend in glory and exultation.

There is enough mystery in Kliman's work to intrigue anyone, but the ultimate meaning remains elusive. It's worth a trip to this excellent exhibit by a Greenbelt artist.

The Gallery will be open daily from 9 to 5. Call the Community Center at 301-397-2208 first to make sure the room is not being used otherwise.

Greenbelt Artist Ted Kliman's show "the Lamentations Series" opens Oct. 14 in the Community Center Art Gallery.

Dance & Sing to "Off Duty" Cops at Community Center

by George Coleman and Konrad Herling

The Greenbelt Arts Center is sponsoring another dance at the Community Center, on October 17 at 8 p.m., featuring "Off Duty," named appropriately, as the band consists of area law enforcement officers and Department of Justice personnel. Founded in 1995 by a group of law enforcement officers who discovered that they had another interest in common — music. The band consists of seven members and plays a wide variety of music, from oldies to classic rock to blues to country.

The vocalists are Tony Thurston and Paula Clinedinst; on guitar are George Coleman, Angelo Consoli, and Chris Purvis; playing both keyboard and sax is Marc Limansky; and on drums is Jerry Martin.

Jerry, Marc, Angelo, and George have been playing together for approximately nine years. Throughout this time they have performed for several bands ("Numbskull," "Wayward Children," "Up For Grabs," "Code 3," and "Off-Duty"). They have played several different venues over the years, including the University Concert Hall (formerly the Paragon), the Grog and Tankard, Mitsy's, Fatty's, and the Fort Meade Officer's Club.

The Off-Duty Band has had several occasions to play at community events in Rockville and recently at the West Hyattsville Community Festival as well as at F.O.P. holiday parties, retirement parties and, according to one of the performers, "at just about any gig where doughnuts and coffee are served."

While there won't be any doughnuts served at this dance, as refreshments can be consumed at the New Deal Café adjacent to the Community Center gym, this should be a fun night for anyone who can hum along with "Off Duty's" renditions of Otis Redding's "Sittin' on the Dock of the Bay," Jimmy Buffet's "Margaritaville," or Chuck Berry's "Johnny B. Goode".

Besides providing an evening of fun and great musical memories, the Arts Center is responding to numerous requests from the community to sponsor more dances such as the one held at the most recent Greenbelt Day function which featured the Cajun group "Blackberry." GAC hopes that this is but the second of a series of dances which help bring the community closer together.

Golden Age Club

by Dolores Capotosto

The next meeting of the Golden Age Club will be held on Wednesday, October 14, at 11 a.m. in the Multi-purpose Room at the Greenbelt Community Center. There will be a speaker.

At the September 30 meeting, the speaker, Lenwood Freeman, a Social Security Field Representative, gave us some interesting facts: the largest percentage of the Social Security money goes to Medicare — 80%. For 1997, costs were $451.3 billion. Social Security is using HMO's to try to cut costs. Also, those persons born after 1950 will have to wait longer before collecting the full amount of their Social Security benefits. Individuals can get account information by calling 301-449-5208 x 3649.

The trip to the National Geographic for a lecture on Van Gogh will be held on Tuesday, October 13, from 6-10 p.m. The trip to the National Gallery for the Van Gogh exhibit is scheduled for Wednesday, October 28. The club is very fortunate to be able to see this famous display. Thanks to all who helped the Travel Committee arrange this viewing.

A reminder that the Golden Age Halloween party will be held on the regularly scheduled birthday celebration meeting, Wednesday, October 21. See Solange Hess if willing to help.

Check out these upcoming activities: the S.H.H.H. (Hard of Hearing) meeting is set for Saturday, October 10, at the Greenbelt Community Center.

Explorations Unlimited has a different subject every week. Friday, October 9, will feature a video "Riding the Rails." On Friday, October 16, there will be an Oktoberfest in the Community Center Gym from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

Prince Georges Family Services is sponsoring an Odyssey Cruise on Wednesday, October 28.

There's more coming up for November and December. Stay posted.

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

Armed Robbery

Riggs Bank in the 7300 block of Hanover Parkway, Sept. 29, 8:27 a.m., an armed robbery was reported. Prior to the bank's opening, two bank employees were preparing to service the outside automatic teller machine. Two men pulled up next to the teller machine in an old-model white Plymouth Horizon, possibly with Virginia tags. The passenger produced a handgun and exited the vehicle, ordering the two employees back into the bank. Once inside, the man took currency from the vault and then fled to the car. The car was last seen driving south on Hanover Parkway towards Lanham. No one was injured during the incident. The robber with the handgun was a black male 29 years of age, 5'9", and 164 lbs. with black hair and brown eyes and wearing a black suit, a white turtleneck, and a tan shirt. The driver of the Plymouth was a black male wearing a baseball cap and having a light complexion.

7-Eleven store in the 7900 block of Good Luck Road, Sept. 29, 9:30 a.m., a man opened merchandise that he had not yet paid for and the clerk told him he was not allowed to do so. The customer became angry and threatened to take whatever he wanted, saying there was nothing the clerk could do about it. After a verbal altercation with the clerk, the customer retrieved a steering wheel lock from his car and threatened the clerk with it. The customer fled in the vehicle, taking two air fresheners and a package of batteries. The clerk was slightly injured when the customer tried to close the store door on his arm. The injury required no treatment.

Robbery and Assault

Greenbelt Road at Southway, Sept. 29, 10:34 p.m., a man was walking on Greenbelt Road towards Greenway Shopping Center. He noticed two men following him; he became suspicious and began walking faster. The men then ran towards the victim. At that time a third man stepped from concealment into the victim's path and said "get him." The first two then began punching and kicking the victim after knocking him to the ground. While on the ground and during the assault one of the assailants went through the victim's pockets, taking his money. The men then stopped their assault, and the victim fled to a nearby business to report the incident. The victim refused medical treatment.

Assault

6400 block of Ivy Lane, Sept. 28, 1:50 p.m., a 28-year-old male non-resident assaulted a person and a security officer who attempted to come to the aid of the victim. The assailant was left with the Department of Corrections for a hearing.

Burglary and Theft

6800 block of Hanover Parkway, Sept. 25, 7:42 p.m., a 37-year-old male nonresident was arrested after a citizen called police and reported seeing him load lumber from a construction site into his truck. An owner or employee of the site could not be contacted at the time of the incident. Investigation revealed that the man had been stealing the lumber. Charges for theft are pending.

Unit block of Crescent Road, Sept. 26, 3:18 p.m., graffiti was spray painted on an exterior wall and a gazebo between 16 and 18 Crescent Road.

GHI to Renovate Corporate Offices

by Dennis Jelalian

At the Greenbelt Homes Inc. (GHI) board meeting held October 1, they discussed renovations, heating options, and salary increases.

Renovations

The GHI administrative building is in need of extensive repairs, which will take several years to complete. A new heating, ventilation and air conditioning system is needed because there are air quality problems in the building. Additional space is needed for record storage.

Eldon Ralph, director of GHI physical plant operations proposed that the board approve $10,000 to commission an architect now to prepare plans with a view to starting the work in 2000.

The board passed the request for first reading.

Heating Options

The board discussed a number of possibilities for heating options without taking any action. The prime consideration is what gas heat would cost. GHI engineer Jay Freedman said the Washington Gas Company would probably require at least 600 members to sign up, but gas would be available to all. President Keith Jahoda said there would be an eight year payback on the conversion to gas, but there are other options. Freedman said that on a large project like this, everything is negotiable. This issue will require further study.

Salary Increases

There was some discussion as to how the 4.2% salary increase would be allocated. General Manager Gretchen Overdurf explained that increases will not be given across the board. Salary increases are based on merit and performance. Some staff may not get any salary increase, others may get more than the 4.2%.

Complaints

Two GHI members complained of vandalism, hate language, vulgar language and music, noise, and loitering. The members requested anonymity, fearing reprisals. President Jahoda agreed to look into the matter and to keep it as confidential as possible.

Unit Conversion

The board attempted to resolve the issue of the member who wishes to combine two units into one at 4E and 4F Plateau Place. Jahoda offered three possible motions. The board approved the one which has a small impact on other members as the co-op costs will be divided among 991 frame units, one less than the current total of 992. The motion was not the one preferred by the member, who agreed to consider whether to accept the board's offer.

Co-op Month

In celebration of National Co-op Month, a two page advertisement will be placed in the News Review next week with greetings, news, and information from all the Greenbelt Co-ops. The board voted to pay $300 from marketing funds toward the cost (about $720).

Closet Roofs

The board voted to make closet roof repairs for two members GHI's responsibility.

Meetings

Finance Committee meetings will be held October 19 and 26. The first work session on the budget will be held October 22. There will be a second budget hearing to get members input on November 2.

A meeting will be held October 29 to discuss heating options.

Democrats Seeking Campaign Volunteers

by Pat Unger

The regular monthly meeting of the Eleanor & Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club will be held on Friday, October 16, at 8 p.m. in the Terrace Room of the Greenbriar Community Building at the corner of Greenbelt Road and Hanover Parkway.

This will be a pre-general election rally featuring Congressman Steny Hoyer as speaker. Looking to the future, Hoyer will talk on "Reapportionment after the 2000 Census." A social hour will follow a question-and-answer period, and refreshments will be served. Prospective members and the general public are cordially invited.

On Sunday, October 4, officers and committee chairs of the club met to complete plans for assisting with Governor Parris Glendening's and Lieutenant Governor Kathleen Kennedy Townsend's re-election campaign.

Former Mayor of Greenbelt Gil Weidenfeld is the local coordinator for "Glendening-Townsend 98." He can be reached at home at 301-345-2327 for information about opportunities to volunteer. Workers are needed to help with phone banks, distribute literature, display yard signs, or work in the state-wide campaign office, located at 6811 Kenilworth Avenue, Suite 200 (phone, 301-887-1998).

President Jim Inzeo introduced Willard Taylor, a field coordinator for Senator Barbara Mikulski's re-election campaign, who outlined plans for voter education on issues such as the economy, education, law enforcement, the environment, health care, reproductive rights, senior issues, and the housing initiative designed to support independent living for members of the disability community. Also, an extensive "Get Out the Vote" effort led by the Democratic candidates of Team Maryland, the Coordinated Campaign 98, was described. Voter turnout in the recent primary was low (Greenbelt's figure was less than 20%). Voters needing transportation to the Greenbelt polls may call Pat Unger at 301-474-1914 to request a ride.

In addition, poll workers are needed in all four Greenbelt precincts for election day, Tuesday, November 3, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Anyone interested in helping can call the following precinct captains: 21-03, Greenbelt Community Center, Pat Unger, 301-474-1914; 21-06, Greenbelt Elementary School, Gil Weidenfeld, 301-345-2327; 21-08, Springhill Lake Elementary School, Kurt Walter, 301-345-3088; and 21-13, Eleanor Roosevelt High School, J Davis, 301-345-3243.

Information about absentee ballots is available from the Board of Elections at 301-952-3270. The deadline for the receipt of applications is Tuesday, October 27. Voter registration rolls closed on Monday, October 5, but the books will reopen for future elections on Thursday, November 19.

Although the improvement of Sunnyside Road and Edmonston Road has been agreed to since the time that the USDA obtained approval to build the headquarters facility, the work cannot be done until a wetlands permit has been obtained. The city of Greenbelt has opposed the roadwork, contending that this work is only a part of the ultimate work required as a result of building the office facility and that the overall impact to wetlands will be greater than now indicated. The city is on record as being an interested party and has asked that its rights be reserved to offer comments either at the hearing or within a reasonable time thereafter.

Michelle Wirt, who recently moved to Greenbelt with her husband and young daughter, is an intern from the George Washington University museum studies program. Wirt is conducting a conservation study for the museum. She is setting up the four hygrothermographs recently donated to FOGM by the Hyde Park Museum. She will study the changes in temperature and humidity in the collection areas. With data from the hygrothermograph study, FOGM can determine what corrections may be needed to improve the environment in the museum and in storage areas. The study also will enable FOGM to apply for grants in connection with improving the environment.

October is National Arts and Humanities Month. To quote the MHC, "The humanities are the stories and ideas that help us decide what's important in our lives and make sense of our world. They help us gain tolerance by examining the beliefs and values of others. They give us a sense of history and a vision for tomorrow." FOGM welcomes visitors to the museum at 10-B Crescent Road every Sunday, 1 - 5 p.m. Special weekday tours also are available by calling 301-507-6582 or 301-474-6369.

The Architectural Control Committee will hold its October meeting on Saturday, October 10, 10 a.m., also at the Windsor Green Community Center.

The Board of Directors October meeting will be held on Thursday, October 15, at 7:30 p.m., in the Community Center. All homeowners are welcome to attend.

The Mobile Watch Committee will hold its October meeting on Tuesday, October 20, at 7 p.m., in the Windsor Green Community Center.

Isn't it nice to get a prize just for being yourself?

When we heard J.D. Power and Associates ranked us number one in sales satisfaction, we were a little surprised. After all, there are a lot of other cars out there. But then we found out that sales satisfaction includes things like having sales consultants who are sincere and easy to work with, who don't mind doing things like taking the time to go through the owner's manual with you. And once we knew that, it all made sense. Because, along with making a great car, those are the very things that are important to us. And if they want to give us an award for it, okay, great, whatever.

unless involved in a fatal accident, or if the person is also charged with another criminal violation; shoplifting, unless the suspect is charged with another criminal offense, such as assault, resisting arrest or possession of controlled dangerous substances. Generally, the names of all adults and juveniles charged as adults will be included unless it may jeopardize an investigation or put the defendant at risk of serious bodily harm or death. The names of juveniles charged as juveniles are not to be released except by court order.

Turnbull asked why DWI (driving while intoxicated) violations are not included in the report. Craze replied that it was a policy decision that could be changed if council so wished.

Roberts asked how other municipalities reported their crimes; that it seems like they are hiding something. In The Washington Post and other publications, Greenbelt has a long list of incidents and other localities just have a few. Craze said that Greenbelt is the only city in the state, perhaps the nation, that has this type of report. Other municipalities report individual incidents as news releases or wait for the media to inquire. This may have the effect of making Greenbelt look like a hotbed of crime. But the citizens of Greenbelt have a need and a right to know. Council members are agreed that the information is vital to Greenbelt but have misgivings about distributing it to outside media.

News Review Position

James Giese, president, Greenbelt Cooperative Publishing Association, Inc. (The News Review) told the council that as a matter of policy the News Review reports only what happens in the community that affects the community. For instance, traffic violations on the major arteries, not involving Greenbelt citizens, would not be reported. What is seen in the News Review is abbreviated from the full police report.

Other Actions

An ordinance to authorize the City of Greenbelt to contract with Crestar to borrow no more than $225,000 for the purpose of acquiring a new computer system for the Finance Department was introduced.

Council unanimously approved the purchase of Pentamation financial software and the necessary hardware to process the financial transactions of the city. The purchase price for this system and a consultant to develop a master plan should not exceed $225,000.

Council unanimously authorized the city manager to enter into a one-year contract with Fleetpro to provide vehicle preventive maintenance. The cities of Bowie and New Carrollton use Fleetpro and recommend it. The estimated first year cost is $59,731, 70 to 80 percent of which will occur this fiscal year.

A decision concerning the removal of the concession stand at Attick Park has been postponed until the next regular council meeting (October 12) pending further exchange of information between the city staff and the interested parties.

Michael Clem, the new senior administrative assistant (Recycling Coordinator) was introduced by Kenny Hall, acting director of Public Works.

Greg Varda and Sarah Schaffer, Recreation Coordinators at the Community Center, were introduced by Joe McNeal, Community Center supervisor.

case, this action would be taken by Mayor Judith Davis. The state law also requires the chief executive or administrative officer to set a date for the referendum. How Greenbelt will handle this remains to be seen, but it is expected that the city council will set the date.

Moran believes that the council will have the choice of either calling for a special election for the referendum or including the referendum as a part of the next city regular election scheduled for November, 1999. However, he is still attempting to clarify the matter.

The state law does not set a time for holding the referendum. It does require that two legal advertisements giving notice of the referendum must be published at weekly intervals before the election. Once the ads are run, the referendum must be held not less than 15 nor more than 90 days thereafter.

Assuming that only one petition is filed, the annexation issue will be resolved by the count of the voters. If a majority of the voters favor the annexation, Parkside will be annexed. If the majority opposes the annexation, Parkside will not. If both the city and Parkside residents petitioned for a referendum, then favorable votes from both areas would be required for the annexation to be approved.

Other Action

One quirk in the annexation law is that there seems to be no provision for preventing the residents of Parkside from repititioning for annexation, should this effort fail. If they chose to do so, the city would be obligated to go through the entire process again. However, a negative vote of the electorate would most probably put a chill on any new efforts, and a favorable vote would, of course, eliminate the need for any other efforts.

Nor does there appear to be any other recourse for the opponents of annexation than to seek a referendum. In a memo dated September 24 to City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin, City Attorney Robert A. Manzi has advised that the power to annex or not annex is permissive, that is the city can annex or not, as it chooses, and the decision is not subject to appeal to any higher court. Only if there were glaring procedural errors in the annexation or referendum process might there be an avenue for legal recourse.

Who should make the annexation decision?

Many Greenbelt citizens think voters should. If you are one of them, be sure to sign the petition for referendum.
